

64 Delica

Mita Musen Kenkyusho Ltd. (Mita Radio Laboratory Ltd.) was established in 1924 at Mita district in Tokyo by the founder Satoru Ibaraki J1FQ/J2IH (1900-1994). Mr. Ibaraki was one of the pioneers of superheterodyne receivers in Japan. Many radios and electronic instruments were produced under the Delica brand. In 2009 the company ceased manufacturing. Delica remains in business servicing its products.
